A GOOD MEETING

Of Triadelphia District Republicans at Pleasant Valley Park.

MANY OF THE CANDIDATES

Were Present and Made Addresses, All Pledging Support of the Nominees After the Primaries—The Crowd Enthusiastic With Speeches by President Humphrey, Dr. Taylor, Messrs. Martin, Nesbitt, Arbens and Others.

The Triadelphia District Republican Club held an enthusiastic and well-attended meeting last night at Pleasant Valley Park. It was notable for the turnout of the candidates for county offices, and many Wheelingites were in the crowd. It was in session for over two hours, and not a man left the spacious pavilion until the last speaker left the stage.

President George Humphrey presided, and in calling the meeting to order, he referred to the slim representation of Republicans from the immediate vicinity, most of the gathering having come from other parts of the district. His expressions were much to the point. While Mr. Humphrey did not say so, it was understood that the fight for a liquor license for the park was at the bottom of the absence of Pleasant Valleyites, they using this form of boycott of the park.

The minutes of the previous meeting, at Elm Grove, were read by Secretary Herman Arbens, and approved. Then the next meeting of the club was acted on, and Triadelphia was suggested. In reply to a question whether a place for a meeting could be secured in Triadelphia, Ralph McCoy vouched for a meeting place and he suggested any Friday night. On motion of W. E. Nickerson, the club decided to meet next Friday night, at Triadelphia.

The speaking exercises opened with remarks first by D. W. Martin, at President Humphrey's suggestion. Mr. Martin said he thought the candidates should have been called on first. Mr. Martin caught the crowd with his prefatory statement that he was a Republican and for the Republican party, because the Republican party was for him. Continuing, he discussed the industrial conditions from a workingman's standpoint, he being a stationary engineer. Mr. Martin told neatly a possum story, in which a colored gentleman figured, and the story aptly compared times under Republican and Democratic administrations. President McKinley's name was cheered to the echo. The speaker aroused more applause when he told of the restoration of wages at his factory to that paid before Grover's clever government, and an additional advance of 15 per cent. Mr. Martin urged harmony in the party and for the Republicans to vote their ticket straight.

Candidates Open Up.

In response to calls, Frank W. Nesbitt next addressed the crowd. It was his first opportunity this year to address Triadelphia district Republicans, said Mr. Nesbitt. He complimented Mr. Martin's speech as coming from a workingman, who was not a seeker of office or a professional speaker, or an orator from a distance—but just a plain talk from a workingman that knew the difference between administrations which lowered or increased his wages. Hence Mr. Nesbitt said it was unnecessary for him to cover the same ground. Smilingly, he said he would present his own case—his aspirations for prosecuting attorney. Mr. Nesbitt agreed with Mr. Martin that the campaign was clean as a whistle. The candidates for prosecuting attorney were all friends of the speaker and he felt sure any one of the bunch could be elected this fall if he got the Republican nomination. Mr. Nesbitt said his claims for the office were based on the grounds of his having been at the bar longer than any of the other candidates, that he had given longer service to the party, and that he was born in Ohio county. But the great question was the success of the party at the polls, and Mr. Nesbitt said his defeat at the primaries would not make him sore, but he would take off his coat and work for every man on the ticket.

Gerhardt Christian Jansen, the "anti-ring" candidate for prosecuting attorney, was the next speaker. The ring, said Mr. Jansen, was a trust organized to swindle Americans out of their votes. He regretted that he had no money to use in his campaign, and he compared his position to that of Admiral Dewey. Mr. Jansen said he was driven from "God-forsaken Europe on account of rings." He didn't believe in buying beer for the festive voter, and he offered to take an oath that he was a Republican, in making a denial of the allegation that he was trying "to bust the Republican party." In closing Mr. Jansen said he believed the Democratic party was a ring.

Not a Speech Maker.

Samuel Graves, candidate for county assessor, city districts, was called on, but declined to speak, saying he was not a speech maker. Richard Ryan spoke on Mr. Jansen's platform, he said. He was a Republican, as were all his relatives and associates. Mr. Ryan advised the formation of a good political organization instead of a ring. After the primaries he pledged his support of the nominee, whether he was "a ring man or not." Mr. Ryan said he and Jansen wanted the Australian ballot at the primary, which was the limit of their "anti-ring" candidacy.

Samuel M. Chase, of Elm Grove, at the conclusion of Mr. Ryan's "spiel," scored the insinuations made by Ryan and Jansen, and the crowd cheered him wildly when he said he stood for the men who had achieved Republican success in this county by their energetic work for years. Mr. Chase sounded the sentiment of the gathering, and Messrs. Jansen and Ryan took the situation as well as possible.

John Arbens, Jr., candidate for prosecuting attorney, made one of his characteristic splendid Republican speeches, after the many calls of his name. Mr.

H. C. Showalter, Candidate for Attorney General.

Mr. H. C. Showalter, of Harrisville, Ritchie county, who announced himself some time ago as a candidate for the Republican nomination for attorney general, is by birth and education a Pennsylvanian. He came to Morgantown, Va., for a brief period, as a drummer boy for the soldiers, in 1861.

In 1867 he returned to this state, still a boy, and studied law with Messrs. Berchshire and Sturgis, at Morgantown. Being a natural born Republican, he at once enlisted in the party's cause in this state, and has been in every battle it has fought, since the campaign of 1868, but has never asked for a place on the ticket until now.

Arbens complimented the Republicans of the district for their interest in the campaign. He had a number of effective anecdotes on tap, features greatly appreciated at the usual political meeting. Mr. Arbens gracefully voiced his claims for the nomination he aspired to. He believed he merited it or he would not ask it. He took exception to Mr. Nesbitt's contention relative to party success, instancing his speeches in the campaign of 1888. He said kind things of the other candidates and promised support to the nominee, if he happened to be a loser.

Dr. Taylor's Talk.

Dr. D. H. Taylor, candidate for sheriff, was beset with calls. The doctor excused his voice, on account of a recent illness. He made a smooth, plain and effective talk. In speaking of industrial conditions, Dr. Taylor said professional men were sufferers or were benefited the same as workmen. The speaker found it harder under a Democratic administration to get pay for his services than under a Republican. The present was an era of prosperity, but Republicans should not be too confident of success in November.

"In 1896," said Dr. Taylor, "we had the gold Democrats with us, but the silver question is a dead one. Four years ago people were recovering from the period of depression, and we all know what suffering and scenes of starvation there were in 1893. These things, however, are soon forgotten. People are prone to forget the hard times in the flush of prosperity. So I say, the Republicans cannot lay back on their oars and expect to slide into power again. I say, organize, organize all along the line."

After speaking along this line, Dr. Taylor touched on his own candidacy. He would not say he would make a better sheriff than Capt. Travis, who was a perfect gentleman and a friend of his. "But I'm out for the sheriff's office," said Dr. Taylor. "I have worked for the Republican party for thirty-three years and have never got a dollar through it. It's your turn I'm worthy of, gentlemen. I will be grateful to you for your support. But if you nominate Capt. Travis, no man will work harder for his election than Dr. Taylor."

Dr. Taylor was vigorously applauded throughout his brief address and particularly for his concluding sentiments. Lester Smith, candidate for county assessor, county districts; Charles Seibert, candidate for county commissioner from Triadelphia district, and others were among the speakers that occupied the time until adjournment.

In expressing his regret that so few of the citizens of Pleasant Valley were at the meeting, Mr. Seibert said: "There may be an injunction against liquor, but thank God there's no injunction against a Republican meeting!" Mr. Seibert took occasion to deny the assertion that he was a candidate in the interests of a license for the park, he saying he would vote as had the other commissioners on the question, that the license shouldn't be granted against the wishes of the majority of the community, and the matter rested with the Pleasant Valley council first, continued Mr. Seibert.

The club's next meeting at Triadelphia will doubtless be even more successful.

GRAPE-NUTS CURE.

Good Food Works Salvation. "When I began the use of Grape-Nuts food for breakfast I was suffering with nervous and stomach troubles. I found that Grape-Nuts furnished a nourishing, satisfying meal that the stomach took to beautifully. I feel so much more satisfied and well-fed after a meal of Grape-Nuts, and do not have that disagreeable gorged and tight feeling in the stomach which so often used to accompany my meals when I was using other foods."

"This proves to me that Grape-Nuts food is a highly condensed and nourishing food which satisfies the system as no other food does, and causes no indigestion. It is a Godsend to all sufferers of stomach and nervous troubles. I have several neighbors who are using both Postum Cereal Coffee and Grape-Nuts, and they wonder how they ever did without either, since learning how good and beneficial they are. One lady has a family of growing school children. She says they use nothing else for their luncheon at noon but Grape-Nuts with milk. They all enjoy the food very much and feel well fed. She states that when the children come from school they are not starved for a piece of something to eat, as they formerly were when they lunched from all other foods."

"This has convinced her that Grape-Nuts food sustains the system longer than any other food. The fact that it is thoroughly cooked and ready for immediate serving is of great value, especially when one is in a hurry. Please do not publish my name." The name of this lady can be had by application to the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

A visitor to Morgantown this week was 'Squire Max H. Srolowitz, a Republican who was elected justice of the peace in Wheeling by a nice majority. He was a former student at the University and was busy greeting old friends. He was busy at other things, too. Soon after his arrival white buttons were seen to appear on the lapels of many coats. They bore the likeness of James K. Hall, Wheeling candidate for the nomination for auditor on the Republican ticket. Mr. Srolowitz did some excellent work for his friend, Hall. He says he found the politicians leaning to some Arnold Scherr. Srolowitz may or may not be a prophet. Certainly he is a good fellow.—Morgantown Post.

John G. Stohman, the carpet layer, will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for justice of the peace from Union district. There are two justices to be elected and Squires Dunning and Fitzpatrick will seek re-nomination. Councilman Scott Fair desires listed that the announcement that he would contest for the nomination for county commissioner in Clay district, was unauthorized on his part, and further that he will not be a candidate.

In Clerk Robertson's Office.

Yesterday in Clerk Robertson's office the following were recorded: By S. E. Deed made March 29, 1900, by S. E. Hagge and wife to C. M. Wilson, consideration $1,750, transfers part of lot 13 in Division D of Russell and Lamb plot. Oil lease made March 6, 1900, by Susan B. Maxwell and wife to J. R. Caldwell, leases 8 1/2 acres in Liberty district. Three deeds of trust were recorded.

Resolutions of Respect.

A special meeting of the board of directors of the Bank of Wheeling was held at their banking house on the 5th day of April, 1900, to give expression of their regard for the memory of their deceased friend, Joseph Seybold, the late president of the bank. The following minute was unanimously adopted:

The surviving members of this board desire to express their deep sorrow for the death of Mr. Seybold; and as a slight tribute to his memory to place on the permanent records of the bank his portrait in this community. While his death was not wholly unexpected, the announcement of its suddenness came to them like a shock. Only yesterday he was a man of vigor and high spirits, and in his death a great loss has been suffered by the community. His death was a loss to the community, and his memory will ever be cherished by his many friends, and his appreciation of the integrity that has distinguished his long life as a banker and man of business in this community.
